NSTL engineer killed on Point

By RICH ADAMS

Funeral services were conducted Friday at Union Baptist Church in the Caesar Community for a Pass Christian, Isles man who was killed in an argument last week.

Carl Wayne Pearson, 39, 150 Mimosa Dr., Pass Christian, was killed Wednesday by a friend after allegedly trying to force his way into a house with a chain saw to see a girlfriend, according to the Harrison County Sheriff's Office.

Pearson allegedly used an electric chain saw to cut through the front screen door of Dennis Billingsley's residence on Henderson Point, according to the sheriff.

Pearson reportedly attempted to enter the Billingsley's living room at 318 5th St. while the chain saw was still running.

Billingsley, who later told sheriff's deputies he feared for his life, shot Pearson, law officials said.

According to the Harrison County Sheriff's Office, Billingsley and Pearson were arguing over a girlfriend.

Witnesses said Billingsley administered first aid to Pearson in an attempt to save Pearson's life.

No charges have been filed against Billingsley. A spokesman for the sheriff's department said Friday the case remains under investigation.

Heroic diver averts Texas Flat tragedy

By EDGAR PEREZ

A 19-year-old professional diver with three weeks experience spent almost two hours under 41 feet of icy-cold water at a Hancock County gas well Thursday working to free a fellow diver trapped by a cave in.

"That boy was a blue as the shirt he's wearing when he came out of the water," said Hancock Sheriff Sylvan Ladner.

Appearing somewhat stunned by his own act of unselfish heroism and still shivering from the chilling he took in the water, Russell Piper of Mount Carroll, Ill., said, "I was only doing my job."

Exhibiting the mettle of the truly courageous, Piper grabbed the only other diving helmet at the drilling site when he realized his co-worker, Chris Little, 23, of Patterson, La., was trapped, and dove into the cold, muddy water wearing only jeans and shirt, virtually no protection under the conditions.

Piper descended along the drill stem of the blown out Phillips Petroleum Company gas well off Texas Flat Road until he reached Little, natural gas still bubbling up around them.

Some 15 minutes after he reached the trapped diver, Piper's communications with the platform above were broken when speaker wires on his helmet pulled loose.

Piper's only direction in the zero-visibility of the muddy water came through Little's hands which helped guide Piper through the one-hour and fifty-minute struggle to free Little from the mud which surrounded him up to his chest.

Piper never left Little's side, never surfaced through the entire ordeal until his friend was free to make a slow, decompressing ascent to the air above. "Before Piper lost his contact with the surface, his only expressed concern was for those above to insure the air compressors did not fail due to lack of fuel."

"Make sure there's diesel in my compressor," Piper instructed John D. Cogar of Waveland, Phillips field supervisor who was on the other end of the communications lines to the surface.

"Chris was guiding my hands, he would show me where he could feel the pressure on his body and I was trying to free him with a crowbar," Piper said in recounting his underwater ordeal.

"There was some metal holding him also," Piper said.

Piper and Little are employees of Ocean Engineering International of Morgan City, La., a professional diving firm specializing in oil field jobs.

The young divers, along with Charles R. Morris of Lucedale and employees of Gertler Hebert Co. of New Orleans and Phillips Petroleum Company have been attempting to salvage the well at the ## School bond issue passes on recount

By ELLIS CUEVAS

The Hancock County Election Commissioners certified the $3.4 million bond issue for school construction as passing Thursday on a recount of ballots cast Tuesday.

The unofficial tally Tuesday showed 1,681 for and 1,125 against, lacking the 60 percent needed for passing by hundreds of one percent.

The election commissioners' recount showed 1,683 in favor and 1,121 against, or 60.02 percent in favor, a one vote margin.

Terrell Randolph, Hancock County superintendent of schools, said Thursday, "Every 'no' voter will benefit as much as the 'yes' voters, it is a victory for the children of our county."

"Passage of this bond issue was one of the best things which could have happened in Hancock County, and I want to personally thank all the people who worked so hard for its passage. The school board members, teachers, political officials, parents, children and friends of the schools all should be Roland Ladner, Frank Lee and J. V. Ladner. Bay St. Louis Judge Joseph Benvenuti served as council to the commission.

Randolph said the next item will be the selling of the bonds and getting the firm of John Mykolyk and Associates, Architects to draw up the plans and specifications and receive bids on the construction.

John Mykolyk said Thursday six months will be required for the plans and specifications to be completely ready for bidding with construction starting mid-summer 1979.

Projected completion of the new school facilities in South Hancock will be about January 1980 according to Mykolyk.

The bond issue construction will also include the addition of 16 new classrooms at Hancock North Central Elementary with administrative offices and a new band hall for the high school and a new roof on the high school and junior high.

The next complex in South Hancock will include a junior-senior high and a Handicapped Education Center.

Randolph said, "It will sure be good to get rid of the trailers being used as classrooms at Hancock North Central."

Randolph commented after the recount, "They are dancing in the streets of Lakeshore, Pearllington, Clermont Harbor, Ansley and Bayou Phillips over the bond issue passage."

This is my greatest victory. It means more to me than when I was elected. I have been involved in many victories in my life and also had a few setbacks.

This victory will help all of the people of Hancock County. New construction at Hancock North Central will improve the school facilities for our North County residents and the new construction in South Hancock will eliminate a 70-mile round trip by bus for students living in the area," Randolph elated.

Hancock County Circuit Clerk Henry Otis said there was a 100-vote change in the total received by senatorial winner

Veterans Day was celebrated in Bay St. Louis with a parade, through the streets and ceremonies at the Hancock County Courthouse honoring World War I veterans.

Joseph Benvenuti, local attorney, was emcee and also gave a welcome address as Mayor Larry Bennett was out of state on City business.

Benvenuti recognized the political leaders present because he said without their help the annual event would not be able to take place.

Father Charles Johnson, pastor of Christ Episcopal Church, gave the invocation and Rev. Charles Clark, pastor, Assembly of God Church, Waveland, gave the benediction.

Among the WWI veterans honored were Hugh Miller, Sidney Gonzales, Louis Latour, C. W. Harris and H. G.

Wingo.

Keynote speaker Lucien Gex, local attorney was introduced by Benvenuti who gave a brief sketch of his background.

Gex started his speech by explaining how Armistice Day which is now known as Veterans Day originated 60 years ago.

Gex put emphasis on the veterans of WWI who gave their lives in the War. June 1, 1954, the president signed a bill designating November 11 as Veterans Day and proclaiming the day as an occasion for honoring veterans of all wars, according to Tex.

"On Memorial Day we also remember the dead to sacrificed their lives in defending this country through the conflicts which have occurred throughout this country's history. Since

SAFE HUNTING

Here are some suggestions that just might save your life with hunting season now being open.

A good gun is just as safe as a good automobile. Both become deadly weapons in the hands of untrained, careless and unreliable people.

Safe gun handling depends on how well you learn and practice the art in early life. Good habits are just as easy to form as bad habits.

If you are a 4-H'er and plan to hunt this fall, you'll have a safer and more rewarding experience if you observe the following suggestions.

Be sure the action and barrel of your gun are clear of all obstacles. Mud or dirt dauber nests in the barrel will cause the gun to blow up when fired.

When hunting with a friend, carry your gun in such a manner that you can control the direction the muzzle points at all times. Work out a system whereby you can hold each other's gun while crossing fences.

It is most important to be sure your target in the brush is game and not another hunter, a farmer or a cow. If game is against a background of water, rocks or similar object, be very careful that you don't hit these objects in a way that will cause a dangerous ricochet.

When the hunt is over, unload your gun before getting into a car or going into the house.

When storing your gun and ammunition, be sure that cartridges of different calibers are not stored together. Also, make certain that both guns and ammunition are out of the reach of small children. It is preferable that they be locked up.

Weekly Broilers

WEEK ENDING:
NOVEMBER 4
BROILER-TYPE

Hatcheries in the State set 6,084,000 eggs for broiler chicks during the week ending November 4, 1978, one percent below the previous week but 11 percent above the 5,488,000 set the corresponding week a year ago.

There were 4,316,000 broiler chicks placed on Mississippi farms during the week ending November 4, 1978, 21 percent below the previous week but five percent above the 4,096,000 placed the corresponding week a year ago.

Cumulative placements for 1978 are 242,214,000 broiler chicks - five percent above a year earlier.

EGG-TYPE

Hatcheries in the State set 178,000 eggs for egg-type chicks during the week ending November 4, 1978, 42 percent below the previous week and 27 percent below the 243,000 set during the comparable week a year ago. Hatch of egg-type chicks was 226,000, eight percent below the previous week and 20 percent below the 282,000 hatched during the comparable week a year ago.

In the five states that accounted for about 25 percent of the hatch of all egg-type chicks in the U.S. in 1977, settings during the week ending November 4, 1978, were up 38 percent and hatchings were up 22 percent from a year ago.

Heroic diver...

Phillips Dual Rig 15 site west of Hwy. 603.

"This is a dangerous well," one worker at the site said of the big hole which blew out and exploded July 20, throwing flames well above the surrounding tall pines.

That fire, which raged out of control for several weeks, was visible at night from the Bay St. Louis automobile bridge.

The well fire eventually burned itself out, but not before completely destroying the well and creating a huge crater which remained filled with water.

The diver, who was working on determining if any valves remained on the drill stem, was trapped at the site as this has been unsuccessful in shutting off the flow of gas around the well.

The subterranean blow out on the well was estimated to be as far as 5,000 feet below the surface at the time of the July explosion.

Water under high pressure was directed around the well Thursday to wash away watery sand prior to Little's descent.

Workers at the scene said the high pressure jet left "mountains of mud stacked near the pipe."

Apparently one of those peaks collapsed around Little as he worked below them.

After his rescue, Little was transported by Mobile Medic to Hancock General Hospital where he was treated and released.

Although somewhat shaken from the adventure, Little refused medical attention Thursday.

The 23-year-old Thursday is a school graduate. He attended months of school in Seattle, Wash., following graduation.

He has been working seven months for Ocean Engineering International as a diver's assistant until being promoted to full-fledged diver three weeks ago.

Oil field workers and emergency officials at the scene agreed Piper deserves a spot in the "divers' hall of fame" for the job he performed Thursday.

Futile site search lowers hope for Cadet

By RICH ADAMS

Burk and Associates, planners and engineers for a proposed anchorage basin at Bayou Cadet, are pressing the Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission to expedite procedures in obtaining a disposal site for dredging material at the future docking facility.

Burk and Associates' Gulfport Office Director Charles H. Hill addressed the commission Thursday, presenting a proposed $160,000 land purchase plan for the necessary disposal site.

Finding a disposal site economically acceptable to the Hancock County Board of Supervisors and ecologically suitable for environmentalists has been a problem in the commission's attempts to build the anchorage basin.

Because of the problems encountered in obtaining a disposal site, the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers earlier this month offered county officials an ultimatum to state their intentions as to the county's willingness to obligate funds for the project or the Corps will consider dropping the basin because of delays.

The Supervisors were forced to ask the Corps for additional time, awaiting approval of a Coastal Energy Impact Program grant.

Hill said in his written report concerning a Bayou Cadet Master Plan to be prepared by Burk and Associates, "The feasibility and the final estimated cost of this total project cannot be achieved until the Master Plan is prepared and completed."

"The funds from the CEIP study grant ($40,000) should be available in the very near future. We then will be directed to proceed with the Master Plan and the study in connection with the project. We estimate this will require a minimum of four months, with a large crew assigned to the project for a forced draft completion."

"Therefore we recommend that the commission secure a proper disposal site for maintenance dredging within the scope of your present contract with the Corps of Engineers for maintenance disposal, agreed to by the commission and the Board of Supervisors in 1970. Once this is accomplished, this should divorce that portion of the program from the construction of the proposed new Bayou Cadet Harbor," the report continued.

Port and Harbor Commission Executive Director Wilson W. Webre said the land could not yet be purchased because landowners have not shown any willingness to sell the land and the supervisors have not obligated any funds to the commission.

"We're backed against a wall. The more we talk, the higher land prices go. The board is cold to our money needs, and this might kill the project," Webre said.

"The Hancock County Board of Supervisors embarked on this project four years ago, and there is still nothing in the monetary department," Webre added.

According to Hill's report, landowners have agreed to lease 10 acres for the basin project, which would be used in two five-acre tracts for disposal.

According to the report, one five-acre tract will be dug out and the material will be used for road construction at the site.

While the Corps is filling in the first five-acre hole with disposal from dredging, the second five-acre lot will be excavated and prepared for more soil disposal.

"The county will guarantee to use approximately 100,000 cubic yards of fill material at a price to be negotiated with the owner."

"A prepayment for 50,000 cubic yards should be made upon acceptance of the offer, the balance to be paid after excavation and continued use of material," the report reads.

"This could be a perpetual lease or may be limited to 50 years. (This is a legal question)," the report added.

Hill's report continued, listing Hancock County's obligations in preparing the disposal site.

"The county will prepare access road on dedicated street approximately 1,000 feet long."

"The county will do necessary clearing and grubbing, will excavate and haul the materials required for the construction of Bayou Cadet Harbor and any other usage for materials that can be produced after the harbor is constructed."

"The county will build and maintain levees around the spoil area with sufficient weirs and spill boxes as required by U.S. Engineers," Hill's report read.

The report listed the property for the spill area, estimating the total cost of property at $160,000.

"We feel this is a feasible plan and should be considered in order to save this project, as it appears the U.S. Engineers intend to shelve this plan and recommend no further improvements in the area," Hill concluded.

The commission agreed to study the engineer's recommendations. In a related matter at Thursday's meeting, the commission passed a resolution to grant Burk and Associates separate contracts on Port Bienville improvements and the Bayou Cadet project to comply with CEIP requirements.

Hill said a requirement for separate contracts on the projects must be complied with prior to receipt of any federal funds.

The commission's attorneys said they will meet with Burk and Associates lawyers and negotiate the contracts.

Before adjourning the meeting, the commission closed the doors of the meeting to the public and press, retreating to executive session to discuss "monetary and other matters pertaining to the commission," according to Commission President J. D. McCulloch.

A 24-year-old Lakeshore youth and a Bay St. Louis juvenile have been charged with causing accidents in two separate collisions in Bay St. Louis, according to Bay St. Louis Police Chief Douglas Williams.

Thursday night Louis Myers, 24, Lakeshore, was charged with cause of accident and various other infractions in a two-car smash-up on US-90 in front of Breath Boats and Motors in Bay St. Louis.

According to Williams, a vehicle operated by Eugene Walker, 56, of 212 St. Francis St. in Bay St. Louis stalled in the eastbound lane of US-90 while crossing the highway in a northbound direction around 7:20 p.m.

Williams said Walker reportedly attempted to re-start his car and move from the line of traffic, when the car driven by Myers hit the Walker car broadside, the police chief reported.

The car with Walker and his wife Elsie, 64, turned over and both Walker and his wife were injured, Williams said.

The couple was taken to Hancock General Hospital by Mobile Medic and admitted for observation, according to Chief Williams.

Myers was carrying two passengers in his car, Duwayne Mitchell, 18, Kiln, and Ricky Stoufflet, 21, Bay St. Louis. Nobody in the Myers vehicle was injured, Williams reported.

Also assisting at the accident scene were the Hancock County Sheriff's Department and the Bay St. Louis Fire Department.

Myers was arrested on various charges including driving under the influence of alcohol. He was lodged in the Hancock County jail.

In a Friday morning accident, a female juvenile was charged with causing an accident when she failed to yield right of way to a van at the intersection of Necaise and Carroll Avenues in Bay St. Louis.

According to Chief Williams, a compact car driven by the minor apparently pulled in front of a van driven by Walter Stone, 19, 135 Lanai Village, Diamondhead.

Stone was uninjured but the young girl was transported to Hancock General Hospital and treated for abrasions, according to the police.

Both accidents are under investigation by Bay St. Louis Investigator David Sellier, reported Williams.

Firemen hailed

City of Bay St. Louis
Fire Department

Several days ago we experienced a fire at McDonald's Furniture Showroom.

The Fire Department was notified and within ten minutes had responded to the scene and extinguished the fire.

I would like to commend the Fire Department on the speed and professional techniques they employed while extinguishing the fire.

As a result of their speedy response and expertise, we were fortunate to have experienced a minimum of damage.

The Fire Department in Bay St. Louis is a unit we can all be proud of and have complete confidence therein.

I would also like to commend the Police Department for their part in this response.

Council asked City Clerk Kelly McQueen to get more information on several invoices because the Council felt they were too vague in description of merchandise or services rendered.

A delegation of concerned citizens led by spokeswoman Geraldine Lang presented a list of questions to council concerning utility rates charged by the city to customers.

Ms. Lang in opening gave a brief review of how the city government works and the functions of the Council and Mayor.

Ms. Lang presented a copy of a letter sent to George Dale, Public Service commissioner, Southern District, and his reply to Mayor Bennett on the regulation of gas costs.

The letter states clearly that the only group having any control on the cost of natural gas at the wholesale rate is the Federal Power Commission. The rates are now fixed by the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission in Washington.

Another question raised by the group concerned the amount of money now in arrears, compared to a $50,000 amount previously reported.

Councilman Benvenuti replied, "I have personally asked the Mayor starting last Spring for a list of the delinquent utility customers. I cannot walk into any department and ask for a report. I have to go through the mayor's office and I have asked him several times. As of this date we haven't received a copy."

"When we took office, Mayor (Warren) Carver had a list of accounts delinquent which he gave us, and I cannot tell you if any one has been paid."

Council President James Thrifflay commented, "I know of two of my constituents who called me because their gas was cut off, one was about $300 in arrears and another about $800."

"One said he wanted to pay $10 a month to catch up but I told them no as they never would at such a low rate," Thrifflay continued.

were only a very few utility users who couldn't afford to pay up."

Rev. Saucier, president of the Concerned Citizens, asked the Council if the folks who payed their bills were penalized for those not paying and Councilman Harry Favre said no.

Council was unanimous in requesting a delinquent list from the Mayor for the next regular meeting Nov. 21.

Councilman Fred Wagner replied, "My personal opinion is that the individual bills in arrears is private, but I feel we should call attention to some if necessary. The total amount in arrears should be public."

Ms. Lang wanted to know if the council could charge the users of water and sewage only higher on those rates to help defray the big cost to the gas users. Council told Ms. Lang that was not fair as it was several years ago. United Gas informed Bay St. Louis and Waveland no more meters could be installed.

Council Benvenuti asked Councilman Wagner to contact Trent Lott and see if he could get some background on the gas rate increases. Fred said he would try and get some information.

The concerned citizens wanted to know if they could pay their bills on a pro-rated schedule.

"They were told that would be possible, but at the end of the year if they used more then the pro-rated share they would have to foot the balance all at once."

The group didn't pursue that issue any further.

Councilman Wagner gave a summary of three things which may or may not be done to help with utility costs.

1. The purchase price could be reduced, which is very remote.

2. The regulatory agency at the Federal level could force the gas companies to reduce the rates. This could be possible.

3. The City Clerk is working on department levels and is making

1954, Veterans Day, I feel has not honored only those who gave their lives, but also those men who fought in these wars and did not have to pay the supreme sacrifice."

Gex told how the people of this nation were behind their service men 100 percent in WWI and WWII, patriotism abounded and a man in uniform was treated with respect and admiration.

"The whole country was united for one purpose, to defeat the enemy. Men and women by the millions were working in war plants building a ship a week, planes, tanks and guns," Gex added.

"However, as we all know, the Vietnam war was unpopular. The country was divided. Instead of men running to the recruiting centers, we had men of draft age burning their draft cards and chanting 'Hell no, we won't go,' Gex told the crowd."

Gex had high praise for the thousands of American men and women who went to Vietnam and fought, some died and mostly were ignored.

Gex stated, "whether the United States should have been or not involved in the Vietnam conflict, thousands of our young men and women lived up to the motto of General Douglas MacArthur 'Duty, Honor, Country.' These men who served in Vietnam need recognition and our appreciation."

Gex commented on the behavior several years ago of our youth at ball games when the National Anthem was played - how they moved around, chatted with friends, and put no importance on patriotism. But he believed the 'Cynicism of the sixties' is disappearing, he said.

"I believe that it is once again becoming popular to stand at attention when the National Anthem is played and to place one's hand over his heart when the flag is raised," Gex said in

"The flag was raised by J. D. 'Big John' Rutherford and John Wilkerson members of Clement R. Bontemps American Legion Post 139, Bay St. Louis; Harold Saucier is commander."

The High School bands of Hancock North Central, Bay High and St. Stanislaus in addition to marching groups from St. Clare's, Christ Episcopal, Our Lady's Academy, Cub Scouts, Girl Scouts and Brownies and students of the private and public schools were in the parade.

Units from Bay St. Louis Police Department, Hancock County Sheriff's office escorted the parade.

Benvenuti thanked everyone for coming and made mention of the fact that it was 60 years ago the Armistice was signed and had the WWI vets stand and be recognized. Also recognition was given to the Auxiliaries and Veterans of Foreign Wars.

MISSISSIPPI WEEKLY WEATHER REPORT

WEATHER SUMMARY (National Weather Service): Rain was again sparse across the state. The northern third of the state was the only section of Mississippi to record measurable amounts. The precipitation which fell on the 26th and 27th was quite light. Cleveland with .48 of an inch received the most. Temperatures were above normal by one to ten degrees. Winona averaged 70 degrees which was 10 degrees above normal. Extremes ranged from 89 degrees at Crystal Springs on the 21st and Yazoo City on the 22nd to 34 at Tupelo on the 21st. Warm and dry weather continued through the weekend.

CROP SUMMARY: Harvest of most row crops continued at a rapid pace and many farmers were cutting stalks and carrying out fall tillage operations as soon as a field was harvested. The continued dry weather hampered land preparation and planting of winter grazing crops and many of the fields that have been planted need rain for germination and growth.

Soil moisture supplies were very short in most areas. An average of 6.0 days was suitable for fieldwork compared to 6.2 days last week and 3.6 days for the same week last year.

The soybean acreage was 94 percent mature compared to 89 percent last year and 79 percent for the average.

About 62 percent of the acreage has been harvested, well ahead of last year's 53 percent and the average of only 40 percent.

The cotton harvest was 86 percent completed compared to 79 percent last year and the average for the date of only 54 percent.

Corn was 87 percent harvested compared to last year's 84 percent and the average of 70 percent.

Sorghum harvest was 97 percent completed compared to 89 percent last year and 83 percent for the average.

Winter wheat planting was 63 percent completed compared to last year's 73 percent and the average of 67 percent. The crop was in poor condition due to the continued dry weather.

Hay crops were 97 percent harvested compared to 96 percent last year and 95 percent for the average.

Peanuts were 96 percent harvested compared to last year's 97 percent and the average of 93 percent.

Sweetpotatoes were 84 percent harvested, equal to the average for the date, compared to last year's 86 percent.

Pecans were in poor to fair condition and were 12 percent harvested compared to last year's 31 percent.

Pastures were in poor condition while livestock rated fair to good.

COMMENTS

TATE CO. "Dry weather continues to hamper planting and growth of winter grazing and grain crops. Bean and cotton harvest progressing rapidly."

PONTOTOC CO. "Dry. Good for harvesting. Need rain for winter grain and grazing crops."

SHARKEY CO. "Cotton and soybean harvest will be practically completed by Halloween. That should be a record."

CARROLL CO. "You just can't fault the weather for harvesting operations. Newly planted winter grazing and cereals need rain, however little grazing will be available if cold weather comes with the rain."

NOXUBEE CO. "Need rain very badly on winter grazing. Many livestock ponds have dried up."

LINCOLN CO. "No rain in county for sixty-three straight days."

SMITH CO. "Very little ryegrass up. No ryegrass being planted - waiting on rain."

LAUDERDALE CO. "Extremely dry. Farmers are feeding hay to livestock. Winter grazing still not up and much still to be planted."

Pirates hold Hawk hatch to goose egg

By ELLIS CUEVAS
The Pickle Bowl bound Pass Christian Pirates unleashed a never-ending show of force Friday as they shutout the Hancock North Central Hawks 35-0.

The defense of the Pirates was as good as the offense as they contained the Hawk runners all night with the Hawks only reaching the 37 yard line in the first half and 46 yard line in the second half. Pirate head coach Bob Lumpkin, as the buzzer sounded, said, "The Pirates played their best game of the season both offensively and defensively. Our offensive line moved them out so our back could chew up lots of yardage. After losing to the Hawks for two years, we were ready for this game. Mackie Dedeaux had a fine night running the ball as well as Gene Lang and Virgil Swanier."

Hawk head coach Irvin Favre was disappointed in his teams' performance and said Saturday, "The Pirates were a lot faster than our boys and we couldn't keep up with them. We played a poor game all the way around, and the Pirates were really up for this game."

Favre added, "We beat them two years in a row when maybe we shouldn't have, but you know this rivalry between Hancock and Pass is stronger than between us and Bay High or Stanislaus. Myself and the rest of the coaching staff thought we had prepared for the Pirates by working hard all week, but, we now feel, we wasted a hold week. We haven't played that poorly offensively before this year, I know other teams have scored on us but we were able to move the ball and score on them. When you play poorly in one phase of the game it looks like you play poorly in every other phase."

"We have to give a lot of credit to coach Lumpkin of the Pirates because he had his team ready for the Pirates," Favre commented.

Coach Lumpkin had high praises for the Hawks Greg Ladner and Richard Storey in saying, "Ladner is sure a fine runner and Storey is one of the finest linemen around."

The Pirates took command of the game as they received the kick-off from the Hawks. Taking the ball on their own 16, Pass Christian moved down the field in 10 plays to score on a keeper by quarterback Virgil Swanier. V. Swanier and Mackie Dedeaux did all of the work on the drive. The point after was wide giving the Pirates a 6-0 lead with 7:24 left in the first quarter.

The Pirate second score came after several exchanges of the ball, Vincent Adams punted out of bounds on the Pirates 13. Pass Christian only took nine plays to score when Virgil Swanier moved in from the one on a sneak. The longest gain of the drive was 26 yards by Gene Lang. The PAT was no good giving the Pirates a 12-0 lead with 8:45 left in the second quarter.

The Hawks couldn't move the ball and the Pirates took over the ball on their own 40. Coach Lumpkin sent in Pat Barnes to direct the Pass offense and on the sixth play hit end Bruce Irving with a 22 yard score. Barnes converted on the PAT putting the lead to 19-0 over the Hawks with 4:48 left in the first half.

The Hawk offense only managed to register a total of two first downs in the first half and one was due to pass interference called against the Pirates.

The Pirates did not let down in the second half when after kick-off to the Hawks they intercepted a Vincent Adams pass on the second play. Dwight Dedeaux stole a pass giving the Pirates good field position on the Hawks 38. The Pirates moved in for the fourth score when Gene Lang raced in for a seven yard score on the sixth play. The PAT by Barnes was good putting the score at 26-0 with 8:32 left in the third stanza.

The Hawks were shut down again after the kick-off when on their third play, Robert Bailey intercepted an Adams long pass, on the Pirates own nine yard line. The Pirates moved all the way to the Hawk 18 before being stopped by a fumble recovery by Bryon Ladner.

The Pirate final TD came when the Hawks fumbled and Mackie Dedeaux picked up the ball and rambled in for the Pirates fifth TD. With 1:16 left, the Pirate edge was 32-0.

The final Pirate scoring came after John Pat Swanier recovered a Hawk fumble midways in the fourth quarter.

The game ended with Dorjald Dedeaux recovering a Hawk fumble.

The Pirates picked up 373 yards on the ground and 23 via the air with the Hawks totalling 62 by land and 79 through the air. Pass had 16 first downs and the Hawks 6.

The Pirates will play Waynesboro next Friday in the Pickle Bowl and the Hawks will play Rosedale in the Wendell Ladner memorial bowl Saturday at Hancock North Central stadium.

"Saturday night we play Rosedale in the Wendell Ladner Memorial bowl and we are hoping to regroup and give the people of Hancock County, an all out effort. Rosedale has had two perfect seasons and are ranked 13th in the state. I know we can play better than we did against the Pirates, and the Hawks have never won a bowl game. This will be a big opportunity for us," Favre said.

SLIPPED THROUGH-A St. Martin runningback exits from a wall of Bay High defenders seemingly unscathed for a gain in Friday's action. The Yellow Jackets shutout the Bay High Tigers 22-0. The end of the season loss was the ninth consecutive loss for the Tigers following an opening game win against the Notre Dame Rebels, 2-0. The Tigers finished the year with a 1-9 record. (Staff photo-Randy Ponder)

Bulldogs hand Rocks end-of-season shutout

By RICH ADAMS
A fired-up Vancleave gridiron squad came on strong in the first half Friday night, scoring 19 points and shutting out the St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws in the final game of the season for both teams.

The two squads came to the field in high spirits, but the Rocks could not reverse an early lead by the Bulldogs.

Bulldog head coach Alton Waltman said Friday's shutout was his fifth of the year.

"We came on strong in the first half and popped them right off," said Waltman. "Our offense slacked off in the second half, but our defense kept us right in there. I can't complain," he continued.

"We got out in front and took it to them in the first half. It was even-steven the rest of the way," he added.

Rock head coach Bill Poole said he was "very disappointed" to lose the final game of the season.

"These are a bunch of good kids," Poole said of the Rocks. "After 15 weeks of football, we were tired. We are equal to them, but we just weren't as mentally ready for them as they were for us," Poole continued. "Vancleave is a very well organized ball club. But we came back in the second half and hit them hard," he added.

Vancleave let the Rocks know they were there to play ball when, on the first series of downs following the kickoff, Bulldog quarterback Allen Williams carried the ball in from three yards out to score.

The Bulldogs had covered 65 yards in 11 plays with Williams scoring at the 6:31 point in the first period.

A high snap from center felled the conversion attempt, giving Vancleave a 6-0 lead over the Rocks.

St. Stanislaus could not move the ball against the fired-up Bulldog defense, and after one series of downs had to punt to Vancleave.

Vancleave's runningback Alec Jackson took the ball 79 yards downfield one play later to score again for the Bulldogs, with 4:18 remaining in the first stanza.

The two-point conversion attempt failed, and the Bulldogs led 12-0.

Stanislaus got the ball early in the second quarter and began a downfield drive, but an interception stopped the Rocks' progress.

On a third and nine situation, Rock quarterback Peter Bernheim passed to end Fred Keel, but the ball was picked off by Vancleave's Cornelius Reddix on the Rock 20 yard line.

Williams kept the ball on the first play from scrimmage and ran 78 yards around the right side of the line before he was pulled down by a host of Rocks.

Two plays later Jackson carried the ball in from the one yard line, scoring again with 7:01 remaining in the half.

Vic Bobinger's PAT attempt was good, and the Bulldogs led 19-0.

The Rocks got an apparent break when Jamie McKeough recovered a fumble on the 25 yard line, but the Rocks couldn't penetrate the Bulldog defense and attempted a Charles Armato field goal from 41 yards out fell short, and Vancleave took over possession.

Early in the final stanza St. Stanislaus runningback Juan Betanzos intercepted a Bulldog arelat on the Rock 19 yard line.

Gary Sotak took over signal calling duties for the Rocks and began moving St.

Stanislaus downfield with pass after pass.

On a fourth-and-15 situation inside Bulldog territory, Sotak tossed a ball into the arms of Vancleave's John Coleman to give the Bulldogs possession.

The Rocks regained the ball, but the clock ran out as the Stanislaus crew moved downfield.

The loss gives the Rocks a final-season record of 6-4, and ties them with Vancleave for third place in the Pascagoula River Conference.

Vancleave registered an overall record of 7-3 with the win.

Vancleave totalled 270 yards offense, 263 on the ground. St. Stanislaus rushed for 90 yards and passed for 22.

The Bay High Tigers closed the 1978 football season here Friday night against the St. Martin Yellow Jackets with a 22-0 loss.

The loss was the ninth consecutive - for the Tigers after an opening game victory over Notre Dame, 2-0.

Midway through the first quarter a Dwayne LaFontaine pass was picked off by St. Martin on the 35.

The Tiger defense held on and took over possession of the ball on the Tiger seven yard line.

On the next play Bay High fumbled and recovered the ball in the end zone, where St. Martin middle guard, Alan Byrd pounced on LaFontaine to force a safety with 5:55 remaining in the first quarter.

The Yellow Jackets took the ensuing free kick and marched downfield to score again on Freddie Wallace's two yard run with 1:32 left in the first quarter.

and when the whistle sounded to end the first half, the score remained 16-0 St. Martin.

The third stanza saw the Tiger offense come to life. Bay High's Steve Hargett recovered a fumble on the Tiger nine to stop a Yellow Jacket drive.

The Tigers took the ball, and with the help of a few penalties, moved to a first-and-goal as the third quarter ended.

The start of the fourth period ended the Tiger's hopes of a TD as St. Martin took over the ball on downs on the eight yard line.

St. Martin was unable to move the ball and Bay High took the punt on their own 35 yard line.

LaFontaine was again intercepted with the Jackets taking over on the 31.

Bay High's Larry Jackson intercepted a St. Martin pass in the end zone to end the Yellow Jacket scoring threat.

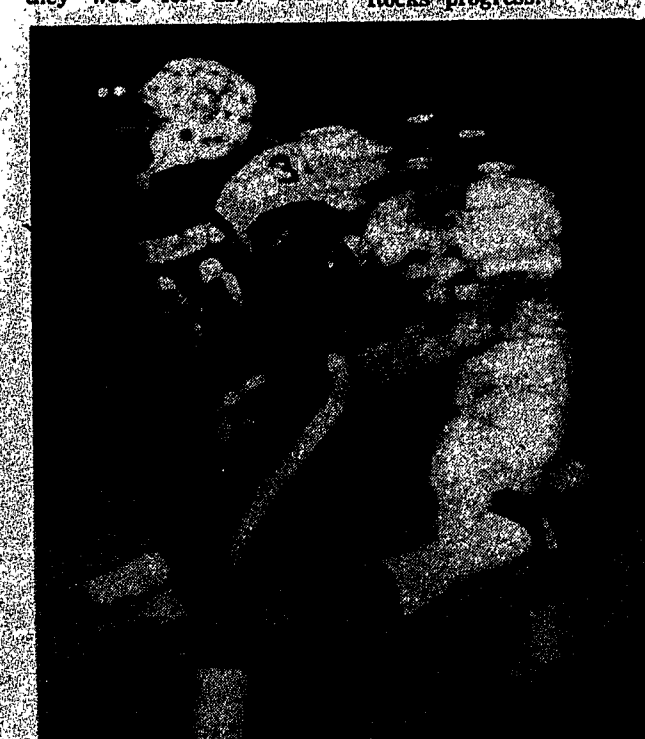

As if to add insult to injury, St. Martin scored again, with no time showing on the clock as Donnie Creel passed to Ronnie Smith from 20 yards out.

The point after was good, and the game ended 22-0.

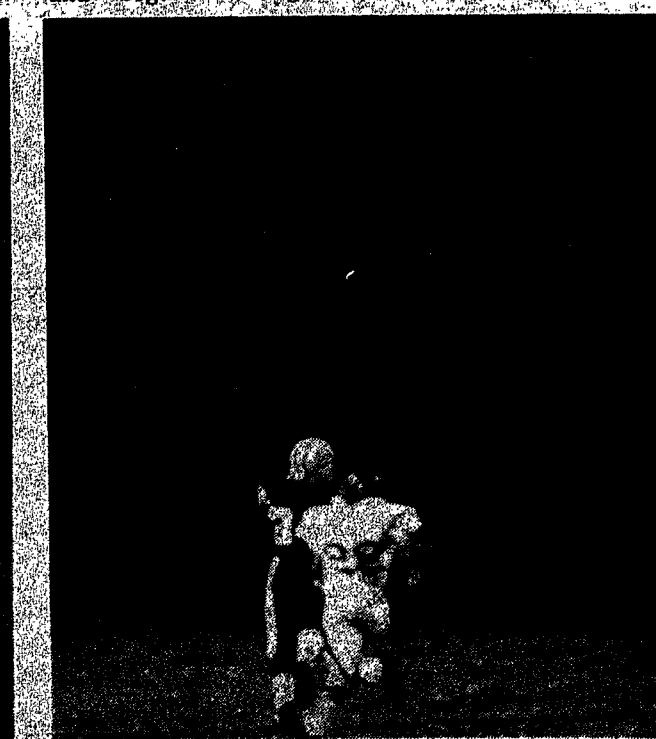

The Yellow Jackets totalled 226 on offense, with 170 on the ground and 56 in the air.

Bay High racked up only 25 yards rushing, and threw for 120 yards.

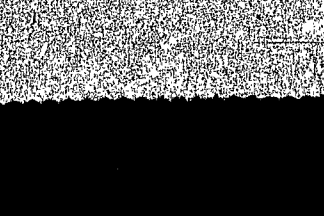

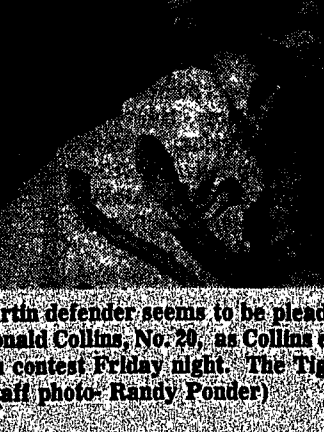

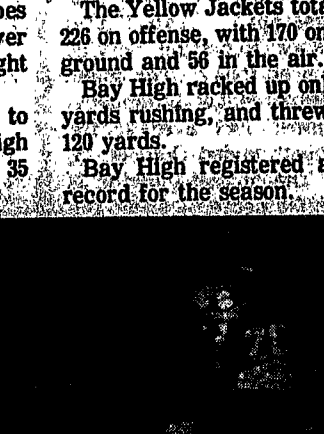

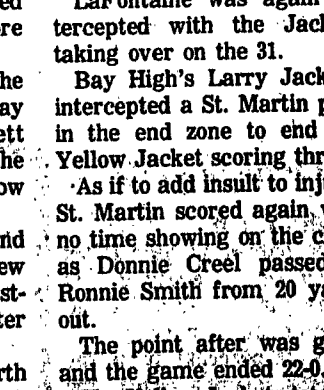

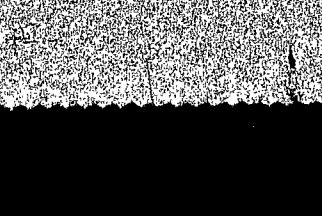

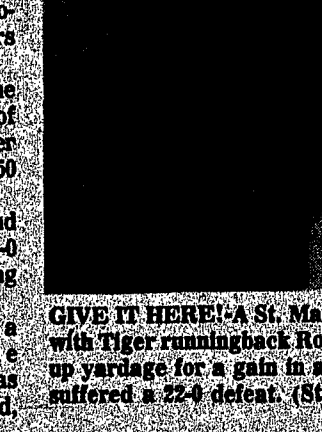

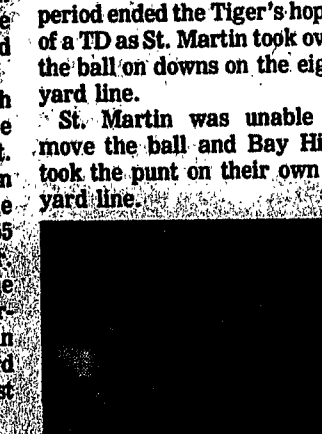

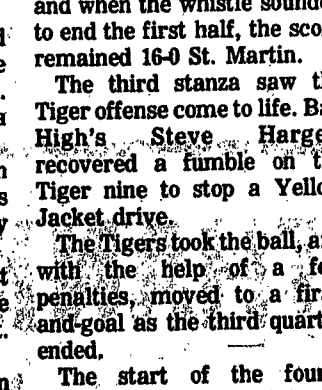

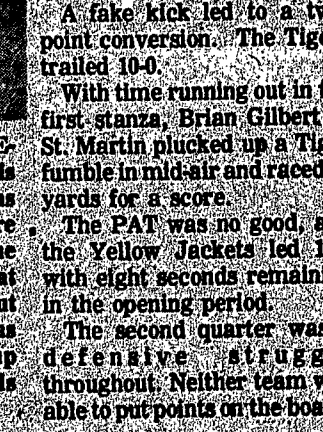

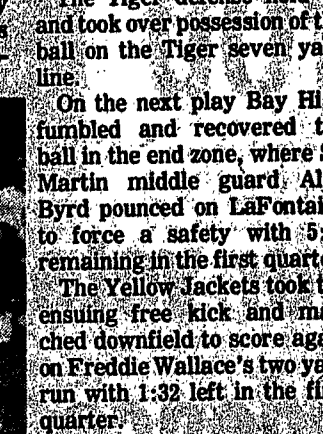

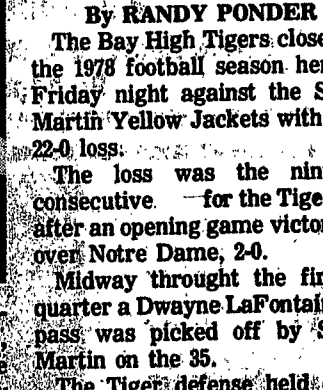

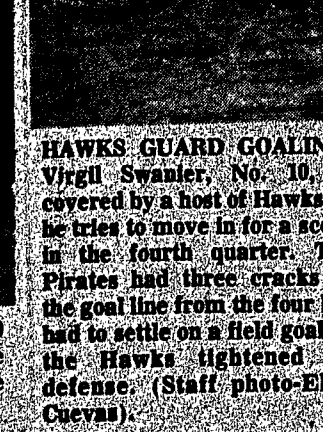

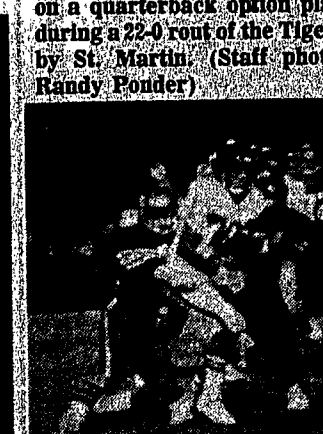

Bay High registered a 1-9 record for the season.

BREAKING THROUGH-Vancleave's Alec Jackson heads towards paydirt after breaking through the St. Stanislaus defensive line for a 79 yard score.

AND THE SCORE-Jackson sprints to the end zone in his 79 yard run with Rock-A-Chaw Kim Johnson in pursuit. The Bulldogs defeated the Rocks 19-0 in the final game of the season for both teams. (Staff photo-Rich Adams)

Eye care group promotes safety

Most injury to the eyes can be prevented by the proper use of safety eyewear and the use of good common sense in everyday activities, according to Mr. Jerry Hundscheid of Hattiesburg, Safety Chairman for the Mississippi Society to prevent blindness.

Working around the house, the do-it-yourself gardener should be alert to the many hazards to sight in his own backyard, and put on his safety glasses along with his gardening gloves.

Lawn mowers can throw up sticks, stones, and debris, striking the operator or an onlooker. Fertilizers and pesticides made with corrosive chemicals may harm the eyes. People working with these materials should wear chemical-type safety goggles available at many hardware stores.

Gardeners should also watch out for thorns and pointed branches while trimming bushes. Protection for eyes should be worn when operating a chain saw.

The housewife should be wary of caustic alkalis and acids found in many household cleaning products; not only for herself but for children in the house.

If any chemicals do enter the eye, the Society recommends flooding the eye with water immediately, continuing for 15 minutes. Then see a doctor right away.

In the school laboratory, the chemistry experiment that explodes, or in the shop class, the power drill that sends metal fragments flying present obviously dangerous, potentially blinding eye hazards," Mr. Hundscheid said.

"Students, teachers and visitors to the lab and shop classes are required by law to wear proper eye protection at all times," he emphasized.

"They must realize that the risk of eye damage is constantly present. It is up to parents, as well as teachers and school administrators, to see that school eye safety laws are enforced."

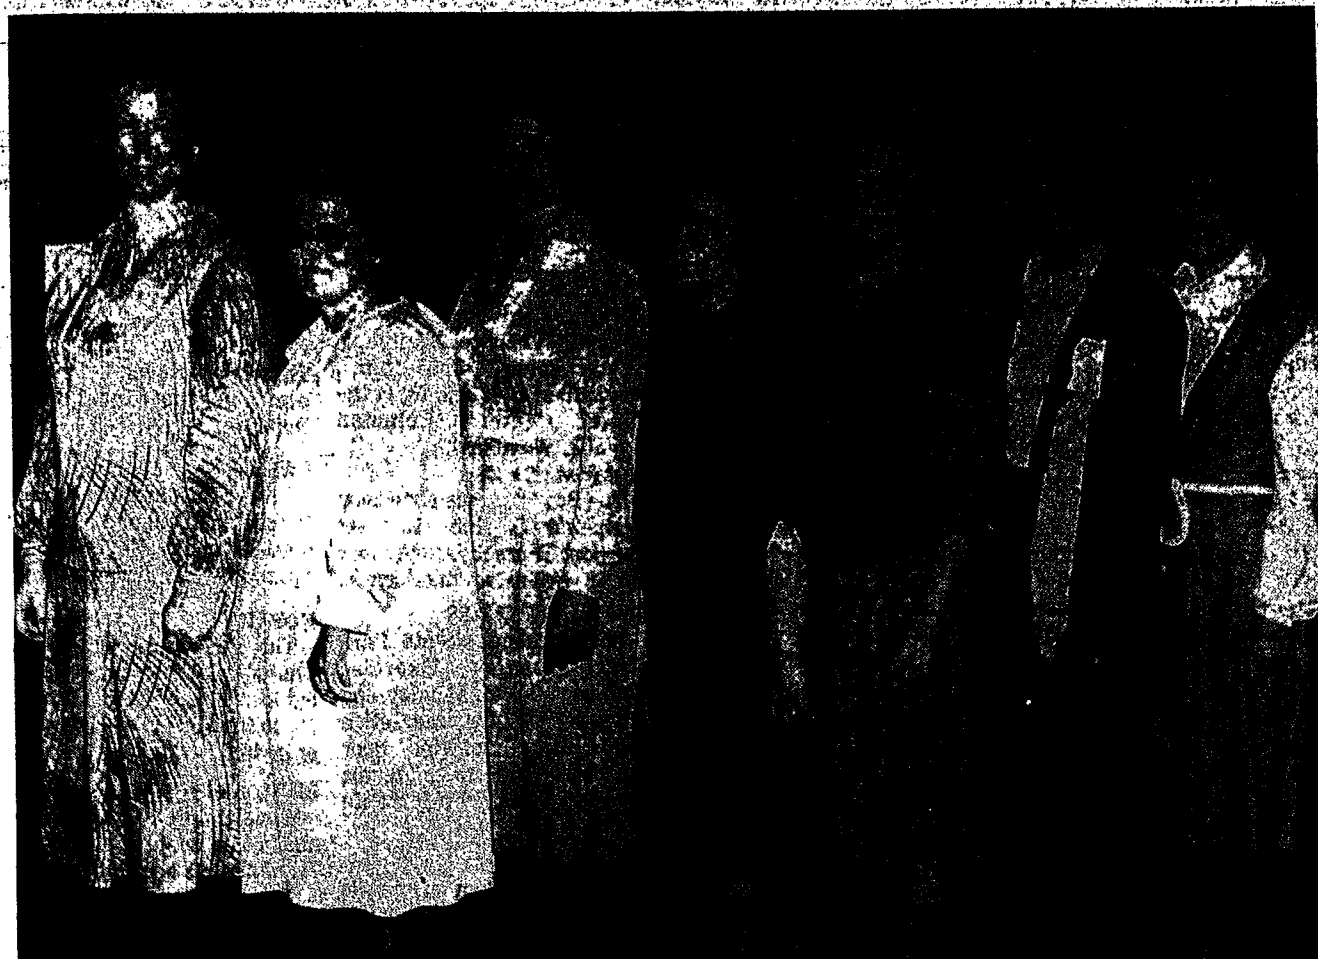

Realizing that good eye safety habits are best established at a young age, the Society has a campaign aimed at reaching youngsters with eye safety messages.

A lively 18 minute sing-along film, "The Eyes Have It" featuring colorful marionettes will appeal to the very young and teach safety habits at play, home and school.

There is an activity packet including games, puzzles and an instructor's guide to be used in schools or group activities.

The Society also has a new film directed to the junior high and high school ages entitled, "An Option To See". A teacher's packet is designed for use with this film, too.

Hundscheid urges anyone interested in eye safety in the school, home or on the job to contact the Society about the materials mentioned. The address is: Prevent Blindness, 115 Broadmoor Drive, Jackson 39206.

Phillips College graduates largest class in 51 years

Phillips College in Gulfport recently held its third formal graduation since becoming an accredited Junior College two and a half years ago.

The graduation was the largest in the 51-year history of Phillips College, with 186 students receiving degrees or diplomas.

The Mike Viator Award for Courage in pursuit of a degree was named for and presented to Michael B. Viator who is a physically handicapped student. Each year the faculty and staff will select a student who meets the qualifications.

The second award was an honorary degree presented to Scott Peterson, news director of WLOX-TV. The degree was given in recognition of Peterson's outstanding public service to the people of the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

Guest speakers at the graduation included Dr. Jim Keith, pastor of First Baptist Church, Gulfport, who gave the invocation and delivered the commencement sermon. In his sermon, Dr. Keith stressed that graduates should not let God's gift of a good mind go to waste.

The next speaker was

James Moody, who was selected as class spokesman. Moody spoke on the subject of advancing yourself by furthering your education either by self-study or formal education. He left the graduating class with a quote he had read and made a part of his life: "Forward ever, backward never."

The final speaker was State Representative Lynn Havens. He spoke on the great advances being made by the state in industrialization and how graduates from Phillips College have great opportunities for good jobs.

Coast Symphony Guild plans bridge tourney

Play will begin on Tuesday, January 2 at 9:30 a.m. and will be on the first and third Tuesdays of January, February, and March at the Gulf Coast Bridge Association on Oleander Drive.

Play will be rubber bridge, with first prize for the winning couple to be $150. Second prize will be $100, and additional prizes will be announced later.

Free coffee and doughnuts will be served the players by Guild members. Cost for the six bridge-playing sessions will be $25 a person. Reservations, which are open to everyone, can be made through Guild members or by calling either of the co-chairman.

Mrs. Clay Hilbert reported on the success of a tasting luncheon October 4, and on behalf of co-chairman Mrs. Alonzo Westbrook and herself, thanked the Guild members for their cooperation.

Mrs. John Rossi, Symphony Shop chairman, said that additional business at the shop now requires that there be two volunteers in the shop at all times.

"She reported that among the merchandise in the shop, there are many now and nearly-new evening gowns, a bridal gown and bridesmaid's dress, and that many more consignments of all kinds have been coming in, including Christmas items.

Presently, students attending the institute represent Latin and South America, Mexico, Japan, Finland, the Mid East, Asia, Europe and Africa.

Kathy Vasselus, institute instructor said the deadline for invitations for Thanksgiving is Friday, Nov. 17.

Tillman, Sellier engaged

Mr. and Mrs. William L. Tillman of Mt. Shasta, Calif., announce the engagement of their daughter, Paula Elaine, to Stephen Frederick Sellier, son of Mrs. Mildred C. Sellier of Bay St. Louis and the late David G. Sellier Sr.

The bride-elect, a 1977 graduate of Gulfport High School, is presently employed by Peoples Federal Savings and Loan Association, Bay St. Louis.

The prospective groom, a graduate of Hancock North Central High School, is presently stationed in Homestead, Fla., where he is serving with the U.S. Air Force.

Marriage Preparation Policy outlined by Biloxi Diocese

The Catholic Diocese of Biloxi has issued a comprehensive Marriage Preparation Policy to go into effect on January 1, 1979.

Elements contained in the policy are:

1. A couple intending to get married in the Catholic Church should contact their pastor at least three months prior to the wedding date.

2. A comprehensive assessment of the couple's readiness will be made by the pastor and an evaluator approved by the diocese.

3. Attendance at a Marriage Preparation Program is mandatory. Such programs include "Pre-Cana," "Evenings for Engaged" and "Engaged Encounter."

4. Only when an assessment of the couples readiness is made and the couple has participated in a Marriage Preparation Program, will the date of the wedding be set.

5. In some cases the wedding may be delayed, reasons such as non-practicing of the Catholic faith, a lack of appreciation for the sacrament and a lack of readiness for marriage, as well as a refusal of the couple to participate in a marriage preparation program.

6. Couples under 18 years will not be considered for marriage in the Church without a comprehensive evaluation of the couple by a diocesan approved evaluator.

According to a spokesman for the diocese, this policy has been adopted to make those intending to marry in the Church more aware of the commitment they are making, the responsibility involved, and the need for a thorough preparation.

He said that the Church realizes the importance of marriage and how important it is for the stability of society. The Church wants couples planning marriage to realize their obligations, responsibilities and above all the need the Church has to offer the couples a solid preparation program.

He also said that those intending to get married during the coming year should contact their Church immediately to begin plans and preparation and also if they have any further questions about the marriage preparation policy they should contact the Catholic Church in their area.

Echoes

Patrick O'Hanlon of Dublin, Ireland, was in the United States to visit his brother John Hanlon of New Orleans whom he had not seen for some 50 years.

Mr. Hanlon accompanied his niece Patsy O'Brien and her husband Ted here from New Orleans to visit Ted's sister and brother-in-law, Bertha and Henry Mahan in Waveland.

"The Coast reminds me so much of home, its so green and peaceful," said O'Hanlon. "I hope to get back to the United States again and spend a couple of days or so in Waveland."

Mrs. Chester Kingston and Mrs. Dolores Ladner returned Friday from Little Rock, Ark., where they spent two weeks with Mrs. Kingston's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Don Kundert and daughters, Lisa, Donna and Kristi.

YOU AND YOUR PET

CARE OF THE

EXPECTANT MOTHER

If you're planning on breeding your dog or cat, make sure the would-be mother is in top physical shape.

Prior to breeding, your dog should be vaccinated against canine distemper, hepatitis, leptospirosis (a disease of the liver and kidney) and rabies. Cats should have immunity against feline distemper, rabies and certain respiratory diseases.

Temporary resistance to these diseases, in the form of maternal antibodies, is passed on in the mother's milk to the puppies or kittens. Maternal immunity is extremely important to protect the litter against disease until they reach proper vaccination age, usually 12 weeks.

The gestation period is generally the same for dogs and cats - approximately 9 weeks or 63 days.

However, you should be ready for the litter to arrive at any time between the 60th through the 65 day.

Just as other births occur early and late, the same thing applies in small animals.

Once pregnant, your animal should be exercised on a scaled-down basis until the time of delivery. As she begins to lose her girlish figure and puts on a little more weight, you will find that she is less anxious to romp and play, and her exercise periods should be shortened.

Don't permit her to stop all activities. Without exercise she may become too fat and her muscle tone may deteriorate, presenting problems at delivery time.

From about the fifth to the sixth week on, it's not wise to allow her to race up and down stairs or to jump on and off furniture and other high objects.

Take extreme care that your pet never becomes chilled when wet. If she shows signs of running nose, eyes, or a sudden loss of appetite, check with your veterinarian.

During the last week of pregnancy, the expectant mother may appear restless. She is probably searching around the house for a safe and quiet place to have her litter.

This is when she should be introduced to her maternity box. It should be placed in a quiet location, out of drafts and the family's usual traffic pattern.

Most breeders have a maternity box which is used while the litter is born and during the time they are nursing. It should be a large enough so the expectant mother can stretch out at full length on her side and have spare room at head and tail.

To help the expectant mother get accustomed to the maternity box, place her regular mattress or blanket in it. This will help her feel at home when it is time for the litter to arrive.

Remove her mattress or blanket just before delivery time and put in several layers of newspapers laid flat. Make sure the box is warm. You should keep the room temperature at least 70 degrees for the newborn puppies or kittens.

It is very important to prevent the newborn from becoming chilled and to keep them out of drafts.

Along with up-to-date vaccinations against infectious diseases and a good environment for bearing the litter, nutrition is a vital element in the production of healthy offspring.

Supplementing the diet with a quality vitamin product or with an iron supplement is good practice for both the expectant mother and growing pups and kittens.

These nutritional supplements are available from your veterinarian, who should be consulted with the onset of your pet's pregnancy.

Waveland church features multi-dimensional film

'Time To Run,' a film depicting a mixture of personal problems and solutions, will be shown at First Assembly of God Church at 1912 Arnold St. Waveland, at 7:30 p.m. Sunday.

Filmed on location in the Southern California area, the film allows the viewer to become involved on any one or more of the three different levels, according to Rev. Charles Clark, pastor.

Viewed purely as entertainment, it's the suspenseful story of a youth's attempts at sabotage in the nuclear generating plant conceived, designed and managed by his father.

Jeff strongly feels that the plant is a threat to the environment, and he puts his feelings in action.

Viewed on an emotional level, the picture is the deeply moving drama of the conflicts that are tearing a family apart.

Conflicts that develop between husband and wife, and between father and son. In an attempt to find freedom from the ever-growing hostilities, the son Jeff takes to the road, hoping to discover some meaning in his confused life.

Approached from a religious perspective, 'Time To Run' is also a story of friction between Jeff and his girlfriend, Michelle, played by Barbara Sigel, who is a familiar face to television viewers.

Michelle has discovered a spiritual dimension in her life, and this aspect is very confusing to Jeff, who has little time for "a God who would allow war, hatred, and suffering on earth."

But his life is shattered by an avalanche of personal problems, and he finds himself at a Jesus people gathering with Michelle, where he glimpses the possibility of a new life-style.

'Jaws' of the Swamps

Alligator or Crocodile? Reptiles Look Alike But Have Different Snouts, Teeth, Tastes

Floating quietly at the river's edge, eyes and nostrils barely visible above water, the reptile zeroes in on the unsuspecting muskrat. Suddenly, what appeared to be a harmless log comes to life and the muskrat is dragged into deep water by smashing jaws and thrashing tail.

Was that an alligator or a crocodile?

Both reptiles are "crocodilians" and they do look very much alike, according to the current (November) issue of Ranger Rick's Nature Magazine, the children's monthly published by the National Wildlife Federation. But there are ways to tell crocs from alligators.

An alligator's snout is wide and rounded, while a crocodile's is longer, thinner, and more pointed. Those sharp teeth also are a clue — with its mouth closed, a crocodile has a big tooth protruding on each side, fitting into grooves on the outside of its upper jaw. But in alligators, those two lower teeth slip into a pocket inside its upper jaw, hidden from view.

Crocodilians live in very warm, wet parts of North and South America, Africa, Asia and Australia, in swamps, marshes, lakes, rivers, or bays.

Although they can stand on all fours and run rapidly for short distances on land, crocs and alligators are much more at home in the water, says Ranger Rick.

The unfortunate muskrat is a typical meal for adult alligators and crocs. Adults will eat anything they can catch and hold onto — fish, wading birds, turtles, snakes, ducks, raccoons, and other mammals. Both species also swallow rocks as "ballast" to help them maintain their balance in the water.

Even animals the size of deer or pigs may be gulled down into the water and drowned.

What about people? Are crocs and alligators "man-eaters"? Seldom, if ever, says Ranger Rick. "Unless cornered and not allowed to escape, they would much rather hide or run from humans." However, there are two kinds of crocodiles that have attacked people many times — the Nile crocodile of Africa and the saltwater crocodile of southern Asia.

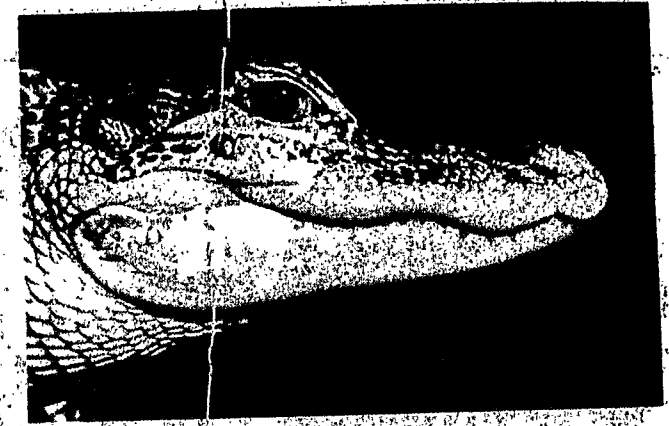

Today's crocs and alligators grow to be from four feet to 25 feet long. Fossils have been found which reveal that in prehistoric times some crocodiles were as much as fifty feet long.

Baby crocs and alligators have many enemies — raccoons, otters, wading birds, and other larger animals. But adult crocodilians have no enemies other than man.

Great numbers of baby alligators have been captured and sold as pets, although this is now illegal. And of course, millions of larger alligators have been killed for their leathery skins, which are used to make shoes, handbags, luggage, and belts.

As a result, the American alligator was once nearly wiped out and was put on the U.S. endangered species list. They've made a great comeback in many areas, and in 1977 about 75 percent of U.S. alligators were reclassified from "endangered" to "threatened." Today the U.S. alligator population is estimated to total about 800,000. In contrast, the American crocodile is still in very grave danger. They exist in the U.S. only in Florida where there are about a dozen breeding females.

With care, these mighty reptiles may escape the fate of the dinosaurs with whom they once shared the earth.

When the Lord will say the
